

Rededication of Beyer Field Home of the Rockford Peaches

There was a wonderful turnout of players, associates, and fans. I would guess 200-300 with dignitaries.

It was a wonderful day at the ballpark. Lou Arnold was remembered along with several others. Stories were told by the girls who played for the Peaches and of course there were autographs. The lines for the autographs were very long, scheduled to end at 3:00, however, lasting at least an hour longer. The players did a great job.

Three of the girls from the vintage baseball league, WWII Girls Baseball Living History League, participated in the dedication. They enjoyed meeting and catching some of the first pitches by the original players, according to Associate Member Rebecca Tulloch.
